OFFICERS CONFER ON CAR SHOOTING

Military Men Again Take Up Punishment of Offending Soldiers.

At the instigation of Governor Mann a conference of military officials was held yesterday at the office of the Adjutant-General regarding the offense of the soldiers of Company F, First Virginia Infantry, who discharged their rifles on a Broad Street car in September. Those who took part in the conference were Adjutant-General, Brigadier-General C. C. Vaughan, Jr., Colonel W. J. Perry, of the First Regiment, and Major L. T. Price, of the First Battalion.

After the announcement of the decision to have a summary court the Governor took the matter up, it being argued from this that he was not satisfied with the result. He was not, however, present at yesterday's meeting, because of his absence from the city.

A course of action in reference to the matter was decided upon, subject to the Governor's approval. The decision will be presented to him to-day.

Grandpa Got 'Em Out. Mike Gales and George Byrd, small colored boys, were arrested last night on the charge of breaking into the house of Annie Boone and taking a large assortment of household goods. Their grandfather, a venerable old negro and a friend of Judge Witte, prevailed on the judge to come to the station-house and go their bail.

BOLLING OUTLINES DEPARTMENT WORK

Tells Committee Exactly What Duties His Assistants Perform.

ANXIOUS TO GET LIGHT

Todd Charges to Be Considered Along With General Investigation.

Groundwork was laid for a complete investigation and reorganization of the office of the City Engineer by a subcommittee appointed for this purpose, which held its initial session last night. City Engineer Bolling, after being relieved at his own request from the duties of his office, is investigating the committee, made an extended and complete statement of the duties and responsibilities of the office, outlining in detail what was expected of each of the Assistant Engineers, and what division of the work fell directly under their charge. Mr. Bolling indicated that later he would himself recommend some changes in the organization, but his statement was limited to the conditions he found when he took charge on January 15, 1928, and to the work he had been doing by the office during his term. Beginning next Tuesday night, each of the Assistant Engineers in turn will be called on to testify, and it will be for the committee to determine how nearly they have measured up to the responsibilities imposed upon them.

The committee decided to defer trial of the charges brought by Councilman Charles E. Richards against Todd until after the general inquiry, since the members would then be more fully familiar with the workings of the office. Incidentally referring to the Todd matter, Mr. Bolling admitted that Mr. Todd had violated the instructions and a rule of the committee on streets.

Messrs. Lynch, Ferguson, Don Levy and Jones, of the committee, were present, with Clerk J. Taylor Stratton and Stenographer Travers Daniel. Chairman Lynch announced that on next Tuesday night, each of the Assistant Engineers will first hear any citizen who had any specific complaint against the department. Mr. Bolling joined with the committee in introducing the trial of persons having business with the office to come forward and give the committee what information they may have.

Mr. Bolling explained that before being elected City Engineer he had served for a number of years as Assistant Engineer under Colonel Cuthshaw, and in his later position of Superintendent of the Water Works had been in charge of the department.

Following is the list of successful applicants:

Reese Doo, Lexington; Crucible Overton, Lexington; Albert M. Edwards, Norfolk; Gilmer T. Elliott, Norfolk; Walker Chapin Foster, Alexandria; John Newton Harman, Jr., Lexington; John Cornelius Hockett, Bristol; W. A. Metzger, Leesburg; Richard Arnold Ricks, Jr., Richmond; Herman Abraham Sacks, Lexington; Nathan William Schlossberg, Lexington; Charles Cosby Scott, Lexington; Luther Gilman Scott, Lexington; Maxwell G. Wallace, Richmond.

TO MAKE IT 1,000

Post A's Campaign Begins To-Morrow With National Helpers.

Post A, of the Travelers' Protective Association, will begin a campaign to-morrow morning for membership. The post has about 50 members, and its aim is to make 1,000 members by the end of the year. Membership of any post in the largest membership of any post in the South. The local members will be assisted by a score of national and State officers, who will arrive in the city to-morrow.

The national officers who will visit the city are President W. O. Hudson, of New Orleans; National Directors Ashby, Miller, of St. Louis, and C. P. Tomlinson, of High Point, N. C. President Hudson has been an active worker in the association for years, and has served on the national board of directors several terms. Mr. Hudson is a convincing speaker and a very hard worker. The president and secretaries of the seven posts of the State will be the guests of Post A to-morrow to meet the national officers.

Married in Washington. Wesley S. Hargrove and Miss Bernice W. Profit, both of this city, were married in Washington yesterday.

HERRY ANDERSON URGED AS JUDGE

Delegation Calls at White House to Present His Name for Commerce Court.

BOTH PARTIES REPRESENTED

Judges Keith and Lewis and Mr. Hunton Discuss Matter With Mr. Taft.

Judge James Keith, president of the State Supreme Court of Appeals; United States District Attorney L. L. Lewis, former president, and Eppa Hunton, Jr., had a conference with President Taft at the White House in Washington yesterday, at which they urged the appointment of Herry Anderson as a member of the Commerce Court. While the President expressed a courteous hearing to the delegation and promised to take the matter under advisement, he gave no intimation as to what he might do.

This new court, which was created by Congress in its last session, will have rather broad powers in hearing appeals from decisions of the Interstate Commerce Commission in the regulation of railroads and other regulations generally. There are to be five members. The names of some of the most prominent lawyers in the country have been mentioned, and their claims have been formally presented, although there is no intimation as to who might secure the appointment when the President is ready to act.

Believed He'd Accept. While Mr. Anderson, of course, has declined to discuss the suggestion of his name, the opinion was rather freely expressed in professional circles last night that he would accept were the nomination made. It was also stated that Mr. Hunton, who is his law partner, was a member of the delegation that called at the White House, and that the idea that Mr. Anderson would accept.

Mr. Anderson is a member of the firm of Hunton, Williams & Anderson, one of the largest law firms in the city. He is president of the Richmond and Chesapeake Bay Railway, vice-president of the Virginia Railway and Power Company, and is also a member of those properties which are controlled by the Gould interests. He is regarded by lawyers and laymen as one of the ablest lawyers in his State.

Mr. Taft knows him. Though he listened attentively to what Judge Keith, Judge Lewis and Mr. Hunton had to say, President Taft realized that they were not talking about a stranger, for he and Mr. Anderson happen to be good friends. When the President gave his opinion, he said that he had no objection to a campaign speech in the House before the election in 1930, Mr. Anderson was selected as the member of the Federal bench.

Mr. Anderson was mentioned a year ago in connection with the Federal bench, but it was not believed that he would consider the proposition, though it is believed now that he would not decline to accept, which is really higher. Judge Prentiss, of the Commerce Commission, whose friends worked diligently in his behalf when it was expected that the Federal bench would be created, has also been urged for appointment on the Commerce Court on the understanding that it would be created as a Federal bench.

GOT WRONG MAN

Mr. Pochler Gets Apology From People Who Made Charges.

In the Police Court yesterday morning P. H. Pochler, arrested on one of the Virginia Railway and Power Company charges with disorder, was discharged, it being proved that he was not the man wanted for the charge. Pochler, a well-known citizen, the company, made apology for the mistake. Several passengers on the car stated that they had seen Pochler, but that he had been started, and had nothing whatever to do with it.

Mr. Simmer, of Chicago, who recently shot his way through the back of a burglar, was dismissed of the charge of felony. Mrs. Simmer, who has just been released from the hospital, stating that it was a mistake.

ARMORY ELEVATOR BURGLAR SHOT

WRECK A MYSTERY MAN HE ROBBED

Exhibit Building at Fair Grounds Not Yet Accepted.

The often predicted clash between those in charge of the Blues' Army and the custodians of the Second Armory, which came last night in the Council Committee on Grounds and Buildings, when it was reported that a freight elevator had been broken by a person unknown, ending a cot for repairs. The custodian, Glazebrook, of the armory, has the key to the shaft, and believes that some small burglar, allowed to enter the armory, produced from the floor a small box, which he took to the elevator. The committee on buildings was instructed to investigate and report where the blame should be placed.

GAVE HIS BLOOD TO HIS BROTHER

Strong Artery Pumped It Into Dying Man's Veins During Operation.

TROUBLE FROM PIG'S BITE

Mr. Robertson Stood Gamely By in Pain as Other's Leg Was Amputated.

While the artery of his right arm was connected with that of the man who lay on the operating table, George F. Robertson, of Chase City, calmly stood by yesterday morning and watched surgeons at the Memorial Hospital amputate the leg of his brother, George W. Robertson. As his healthy blood flowed steadily through the tube and furnished strength and vitality to assist in the operation, Mr. Robertson, though he had nothing in the way of an anesthetic except a little cocaine rubbed on where the incision was made, was apparently as free from nervousness as the men who performed the operation. In the case of both men the surgeons were most successful.

A week ago Mr. Robertson came to the Memorial to be treated for a bite on the left leg inflicted three weeks before by a pig. It was thought at first that the wound was not dangerous, but it became worse each day. He came to the Memorial Hospital his leg not only swollen but inflamed. Everything possible was done by the hospital staff until yesterday, when it became apparent that nothing except an amputation could save his life.

Brothers Notified. His brother, George F. Robertson, of Chase City and Rev. W. P. Robertson, pastor of the Randolph Street Baptist Church, of this city, were notified that his condition was very serious, and that the leg would have to be amputated.

When the hour for the operation drew near, Mr. Robertson became weaker. Physicians said that he could hardly live more than an hour, unless his leg was cut off, and even then there was grave doubt that his blood could stand the strain of the anesthetic and the loss of blood. His brother immediately offered to furnish the blood from his own arteries. It was assured would insure a successful operation.

When all was ready, the incisions were made and throughout the operation his heart pumped steadily. In a few minutes the leg was cut off and he was being congratulated on his display of nerve.

Both were immediately put to bed and are doing well last night. It is estimated that more than a pint of blood flowed from one man to the other. Though the infusion of blood in an operation is a dangerous operation, it was considered a dangerous operation. It was said at the Memorial last night that but for his brother's heroism and nerve, Mr. Robertson's chances for life would have been very small. He is considered practically out of danger.

ROAD IN BAD SHAPE

Government Engineers Protest at City's Neglect of Thoroughfare.

Major J. C. Walker, United States Army, yesterday called at the office of Mayor Richmond and filed formal complaint about the condition of that part of the Government road, to the National Cemetery, lying inside of the city limits. Complaints were made recently after an inspection by Captain C. F. Humphreys. Many years ago the United States government constructed a winding boulevard from the eastern city limits at Chimborazo Park to the National Cemetery, some distance east of the city. In the early years of the city's history, soldiers who fell during the battles around Richmond, in the annexation of 1866, the boulevard was used as a common thoroughfare. The road was taken into the city and became a public street. The government has since ceased to have any part in the care and maintenance, save of that lying between the new city limits and the cemetery. Major Weeks told the Mayor that that part in the city was in a state of repair, having been practically touched since it was annexed. Catch basins, along the side of the road, he said, were in a state of neglect, and had been washed at several points.

Mayor Richardson directed Superintendent H. J. Cohen, of the Street Cleaning Department, to have the catch basins and drains cleared, and will call the matter to the attention of the Committee on Streets.

Haight Wounded in Hand After Desperate Struggle in Darkness.

At the cost of a bullet hole in his hand, $25 in money and a lot of good food, C. A. Haight, of 312 East Main Street, in the early hours of yesterday morning succeeded in chasing from his home a negro burglar who had gathered up all the family silver and was preparing to leave the house by an entrance which he had made in the rear. Besides a pistol shot, Mr. Haight was yesterday stiff and sore from a fierce struggle with the burglar, who was loth to go without his loot. The burglar took place in the unlighted hall, and the only reason Mr. Haight has to be positive that the man was a negro is that his fist struck the burglar's nose.

Mr. Haight remembers hearing a noise in the basement of his residence some time before he went down to investigate. From time to time it was heard, until he decided a cat was loose, and he went down to put it out. In the darkness of the hall he met the burglar, who was armed with a knife and a pistol. The owner was holding up his end well when the negro drew a revolver. With the weapon pressed against his chest, the burglar ordered Mr. Haight to get out of the way. He obeyed, and as the wounded man fell back the burglar escaped.

The ambulance was called and the wound of the hand treated. Police Officer Crawford, who was at the corner of Third Street, while the wound was being dressed, the officer made a thorough investigation of the premises. Evidently the man had been in the house for some time, and had gone about the job at his leisure. On the table was a stack of a bundle and the Haight cupboard showed that he had treated himself to an ample meal. Also there were several cigar stubs on the floor. In the wall was a note, which was carefully wrapped in a cloth. On examining his cash, Mr. Haight found that $25 was gone.

The block on which Mr. Haight lives is one of the darkest in the city, and some of the citizens living nearby said yesterday that they need not have taken the precaution of entering their homes if they wanted to keep their actions dark. Report of the robbery was at once made to police headquarters, and detectives have been put on the case. As yet, however, there seems but little chance of arresting him.

COLORED ORDER WANTS RECEIVER TO TAKE CHARGE

Rule Against Galilean Fishermen Is Dismissed After Hearing.

As the result of a public hearing had before him yesterday morning, State Insurance Commissioner Joseph Patton granted an order dismissing the rule against the Galilean Fishermen of the Grand Tabernacle of the Grand United Order of Galilean Fishermen of the United States, of Baltimore city. This order permits the order to continue in business in Virginia.

The proceedings requiring the officers to show cause why the license of the society should be revoked grew out of the recent failure of the Galilean Fishermen's Bank at Hampton, which is now in the hands of receivers. It appears that this is another of those instances in which colored organizations have gone into too many kinds of business, and have attempted to operate a bank without success.

At yesterday's hearing it was stated the bank will perhaps pay its depositors 50 per cent. of the liabilities, and this applies, of course, to all among the other depositors. Further, the officers agreed to levy an extra assessment on the members to pay claims and to give it money with which to continue to operate until the affairs of the bank are wound up. Apparently this will enable the order to continue in business, and to discharge its indebtedness.

PLANS FOR TRIP

Many German Citizens to Attend Steuben Monument Unveiling.

Big preparation is being made by the German-American citizens of Richmond to attend the unveiling of a monument erected in memory of General von Steuben, which will take place in Washington on December 7.

At a meeting of the executive committee of the German-American Association of Virginia and the State-Verband, held in the Ellis' Home yesterday afternoon, a report was made by the committee on the arrangements for the trip. It was decided to invite all German and German-American citizens of the city to take part in the unveiling. A special train will leave Richmond for Washington at 7 A. M. on the day of the exercises, and from indications it seems assured that a large number will go from here and from all other sections of the State. Three flags will be taken along—the old Star-Spangled Banner, the German flag, and the German flag. The committee expects fifty singers to take part in the exercises, and that the singing of the Star-Spangled Banner will be taken to the base of the monument as a token of respect for the great commander.

Persons anticipating attending the banquet to be held the night of the unveiling should communicate with one of the following: Carl Ruedemann, 98 E. Main Street; August Stumpf, 101 E. Main Street; E. A. Stumpf, Eighth and Main Streets.

DRIVER FIRED AND THEN PUT UNDER ARREST

Up to yesterday morning, when he was presented with his walking papers, Jim Turpin, colored, was employed as driver for A. S. Waldrop. Last night Turpin and two large sacks of potatoes were carted to the Second Police Station, and the ex-driver was charged with theft.

Mr. Waldrop had a carload of potatoes on the siding of the Richmond, Fredericksburg and Potomac Railroad. Soon after Turpin was taken to a force of men began to unload the car, and it was found two sacks shy. Three policemen were put on the case, and he was landed with the goods on.
